

Over 100 years, over 100 times per day

Based in Northern Europe, Meconet is a company specialised in manufacturing springs, wire products, stampings and deep drawn products. We design and produce demanding metal components and assembly works for our clients' needs. We operate in Europe.

Cooperation throughout the entire lifespan of the product

We provide a comprehensive service, from product solutions to prototypes, and from small batches to efficient mass production.

1. Product development and manufacturing process design

- product modelling and simulation
- method options
- prototypes and small batches
- tool design and manufacturing

2. Production and key technologies

- springs
- stampings
- deep drawn products
- assembly and delivery management

We are successful together with our customers

Meconet is a family business with more than 100 years of history and experience. Our business is based on LEAN principles, and it is guided by the certified ISO 9001 quality system and the ISO 14001 environmental management system. You probably use Meconet products over 100 times every day.
