Innovations are built together

Comprehensive outsourcing

Efficiency and savings for your business

Meconet AS is the Meconet plant in Tallinn, Estonia. The plant has carried out many outsourcing projects successfully for international clients. Meconet AS has robust engineering knowledge in progressive stamping, assembly, automation, and machining.

Experience and proven expertise in outsourcing

We can offer comprehensive project management resources to ensure rapid and controlled implementation of outsourcing projects. We have the flexibility to handle variety of orders – from individual products and product families to complete manufacturing lines, including machines and stamping tools. Additionally, we have capability for further processing of manufactured components into sub-assemblies and final assemblies. If required, we can prepare them even for consumer or wholesale packaging.

For AssaAbloy and Schneider Electric, Meconet AS in Tallinn has become a one-stop solution for various outsourcing needs. For Assa Abloy, Meconet took over the entire production chain for several lock models – including component manufacturing, lock assembly and packaging. Similarly, Schneider Electric transferred stamping tools and the related automated assembly cells for selected sub-assemblies and products to Meconet. Today Meconet also handles maintenance of the tools and machines with in-house tool shop and automation expertise.
